FELIX DESMOND OF SACRAMENTO COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Sacramento County may well be proud of its efficient public officials, men and women of wide experience and unquestioned and non-challengeable integrity of dependability, among whom is Felix Desmond, the popular superintendent of the Sherman Island State Farm. He is a native son, and first saw the light at San Francisco on October 15, 1857. His father, Michael Desmond, was a native of County Cork, Ireland, and he married Miss Anna Darley of the same place. He came to California in the early fifties, and rendered excellent service here as an experienced and hard-working carpenter, more than willing to assist others to get homes and headquarters; and when he and his good wife, who preceded him to the great beyond, closed their earthly careers, they rounded out a record such as anyone might be proud of. The parents of Felix Desmond died when he was a baby and he never knew what it was to have a real father and mother. He was reared by a Mr. McRae, a teamster of San Francisco, and was the third-born in a family of four boys: John. William, Felix, and James.

Felix Desmond attended the school of his locality, and when a lad started to make his own way in the world. He received at first two dollars a week, and his job was to thread needles in a carpet factory run by John C. Bell. He then worked for a while in a candle factory, and after that, when he was able to handle horses, took up teaming, and drove for three companies in San Francisco, those of McKinnon, Ayers, and Messrs. Lyons & Collins. He then left San Francisco and went to Stockton, where he worked for George Harris, on a ranch near Oakdale.

Leaving Mr. Harris, where he had become invaluable through his work and his fidelity, Mr. Desmond entered the service of the state of California, and he has been at the State Farm for the past fifteen years. He is now foreman in charge of their ranch of 250 acres on Sherman Island, Sacramento County, which is a part of the State Farm; a self-supporting institution, with about twenty-five inmates from the asylum, the temporarily insane and ailing to a still lesser degree. These (male) inmates do all the work required to operate the farm, which is devoted to the raising of asparagus and vegetables. Mr. Desmond is a Republican, but first, last and all the time, he is a loyal American, enthusiastic for the Golden State.

At San Francisco, on February 28, 1885, Mr. Desmond was married to Blanche Paul, who was born on March 16, 1868, at San Francisco, the daughter of Horatio Paul; and two sons and one daughter have blessed this union, Harry, Roy and Vera. Both sons responded for service in defence of their country in the World War, Roy joining the Pacific Coast Guards, but he was not accorded the privilege of getting to France. He resides in San Francisco. Harry enlisted in the army, on the other hand, trained at Camp Lewis, and crossing over to France, served in the Evacuation Hospital, No. 16. He is married and resides at Cle Elum, Wash., and has one daughter, Elizabeth. Vera married Otto Boyer.

His wife, Sarah, was a native of Chatham, N.B. and a daughter of Luke and Mary (O'Leary) Fitzpatrick, who came to New Brunswick from Wexford, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Desmond were the parents of eight children, two of whom are now living, namely: Mary Ellen, wife of Captain William Beynon; and Francis J., the subject of this .sketch. Luke, the eldest son, was a sea captain. He sailed from Limerick, Ireland, in January, 1888, on a vessel called the "Borzone," which was never more heard from. The others died in childhood. Patrick Desmond died in 1880, at the age of fifty-four years.

Francis J. Desmond received his elementary education in the common schools, and subsequently attended St. Michael's College, Chatham, where he took a commercial course. ## FRANK DESMOND OF DOUGLAS COUNTY, MINNESOTA

Frank Desmond, a prominent citizen off the village of South Range, Douglas county, is one of the oldest members of the county board of supervisors. He is a native of Maine, born in Springfield, March 23,1853, a son of Timothy and Mary (Finn) Desmond.

Timothy Desmond was born in County Cork, Ireland, and came to the United States while a young man. After coming to Maine he settled on a farm, being also engaged to some extent in lumbering. In the fall of 1855 he went to Wright county, Minn., where he took up a preemption claim. This he gradually developed into a fine farm, and spent the balance of his life there, passing away when eighty-four years old. His widow, who survived him for a few years, died when seventy-five. She was born in County Fermanagh, Ireland. Both were members of the Catholic Church and helped to organize St. Timothy's Church in Wright county. Twelve children, seven of them sons, were born to Timothy and Mary Desmond, as follows: Timothy, Jr., of Maple Lake, Minn.; James (deceased) of Buffalo, Minn.; Daniel, of Minneapolis; William, (deceased), of the same city; Zachariah, who died in Wright county; George, of Minneapolis; Frank; Eliza, who married J. M. Baldwin, of Minneapolis; Lucy, now Mrs. William Knight, of Monticello, Minn.; Ellen, (deceased) wife of William Hawn, of Wright county; Margaret, (deceased) wife of A. E. Philbrook, of Superior; and Maria, married to D. E. Slipp, of Brainerd, Minn.

Frank Desmond spent the most of his boyhood in Wright county, where he attended the public schools, usually for three months in the year, helping his father on the farm for the rest of the time. When twenty-one years old he left home and secured employment on the river and in the lumber regions, remaining in Minnesota until 1882, when he located at Superior. For several years he continued to work at lumbering but in the year 1884 he settled at South Range, where he has since resided. He was employed for some time in the saw mill of K. G. Staples. At intervals Mr. Desmond has invested in real estate until he now has 260 acres of land, from which he has cut and marketed the timber, together with forty acres adjacent to the village of South Range, and fourteen acres enclosed and under cultivation. He has raised successfully all kinds of grain and vegetables except maize. In 1902 he planted two acres of sugar beets for a factory in Minneapolis, as an experiment in the culture of that crop in Douglas county. Since 1892 Mr. Desmond has represented the town of Superior on the county board and is now the oldest member of the body in continual service. He has served on the committees on finance, sheriffs and courts, roads and bridges, and the county poor.

Mr. Desmond has always been a Democrat in principle but is too intelligently interested in public affairs to be a partisan. He enjoys the confidence and good will of all his associates, regardless of party affiliations.

Mrs. Frank Desmond was a Miss Margaret L. Cunningham, daughter of Patrick and Ann Cunningham, of Wright county, Minn. She was married to Mr. Desmond Nov. 24, 1891, and has borne him three children, Morris Edward, Walter Eustace, and Anna Marie. The family are prominently connected with St. Francis' Catholic Church of Superior. [Includes portrait.]

JEREMIAH JOHN DESMOND OF PLACER COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Among the industrious farmers who have given material assistance in developing and advancing the agricultural prosperity of Placer County [California] is Jeremiah John Desmond, whose finely cultivated ranch of ninety acres lies in the vicinity of Ophir. When he bought the property twelve years ago it was still in a wild state; he cleared and planted forty acres to orchard, which is showing a fine growth; the balance of fifty acres is still undeveloped. In partnership with W. R. Monahan, Mr. Desmond has developed another orchard property of fifty acres adjacent to Ophir.

Mr. Desmond was born in Philadelphia, Pa., a son of John and Hannah (Foley) Desmond, both natives of County Cork, Ireland. The father, John Desmond, came to the West in 1875 and located at Virginia City, Nev., where he remained for one year; then he located in Lassen County, Nev., where he engaged in farming for about forty years; he passed away at Reno, Nev., aged seventy-six years; his wife was sixty years old when she died. They were the parents of two children: Jeremiah John, the subject of this sketch, and Mrs. Anna Casev, who resides at Auburn, Cal.

J. J. Desmond was reared on his father's farm in Lassen County and there received what schooling was available in the district schools. In 1901 he removed to Reno, Nev., where he worked for about six years, when he returned to California and settled in the Ophir district of Placer County, in 1907, which has since been his home.

In April, 1906, at Sacramento, Mr. Desmond was united in marriage with Miss Margaret Monahan, a native of Butte County, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth F. Monahan, early pioneers of Placer and Nevada Counties.

Thomas Monahan engaged in mining for a number of years. About fifty years ago he settled near Ophir and engaged in the orchard business, and at one time he owned one of the largest cherry orchards in this vicinity. Mrs. Desmond is the youngest of three children, the others being William R. and Lewis C., the latter residing at Winthrop, Cal.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmond are the parents of one son, John, who is associated with his father on the home ranch. In politics Mr. Desmond is a Democrat. Fraternally, he is affiliated with Auburn council No. 1226, Knights of Columbus.

JEREMIAH JOSEPH DESMOND OF NEW LONDON COUNTY, CONNECTICUT

Hon. Jeremiah Joseph Desmond, one of the most eminent attorneys of New London county, many times a public servant, and for two years mayor of Norwich, Connecticut, is a figure of more than usual prominence in the city in which he has resided for thirty-four years.

Timothy Desmond, Mr. Desmond's father, played a large part in the development of the railway facilities of Western Connecticut. He was born in 1800, in County Cork, Ireland. He received his early education in the National schools of that country, after which he became a farmer, and followed this calling until 1848, when he came to the United States, locating in Boston, Massachusetts. There he became associated with Lynch Brothers, contractors and builders, whose sister he had married a number of years before coming to this country.

About 1850 Lynch Brothers secured a contract to build a section of the New London & Worcester railroad, between Norwich and Allen Point, near New London, Connecticut. Mr. Desmond held the position of assistant manager and bookkeeper on this contract. Not long after the completion of this stretch of road a more important contract was taken by the Lynch Brothers, namely, the building of a section of the Hartford & Providence branch, between Willimantic and Baltic, Connecticut. At that time the brothers bought a farm near Windham, Connecticut, and Mr. Desmond took charge of it, housing all the laborers. He conducted this farm until the contract was completed, then hired a farm in the town of Preston, where he remained until 1866, then bought a farm in the town of Mansfield, Connecticut, where he engaged in general farming until 1875. He then retired from active work, selling the farm and moving his family to Norwich, there to spend his declining years. He died there in 1891, at the advanced age of ninety-one years. His wife, Julia (Lynch) Desmond, was also a native of Ireland; she died in 1887. They were the parents of fifteen children, of whom the Norwich attorney was the fourteenth.

Jeremiah Joseph Desmond was born in Windham, Windham county, Connecticut, on April 4, 1856. He received his primary education in the district schools of the town of Preston, and later attended school in Mansfield. In 1870 he entered the Nicolet Preparatory College, at Nicolet, in the Province of Quebec, Canada. In 1871 he was ready for his higher course, and entered the Montreal College. In 1875 he entered the Holy Cross College at Worcester, Massachusetts, taking the academic course, and in 1878 was graduated, with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In the same year he came to Norwich. For one year he studied law with Wait & Green, then went to Columbia University Law School, New York City, to complete his studies. He received the degree of Master of Arts from Holy Cross College. In November, 1880, he was admitted to the bar, and in the same year opened an office In Norwich.

Mr. Desmond's legal career may be summed up in the statement that he has practiced in Norwich from that date to the present. But this says nothing whatsoever of the struggles and triumphs through which he has passed, nor of the meaning which his name has come to possess to his friends, to the general public, to the community. By political affiliation a Democrat, he has served the city in many ways.

Mr. Desmond was corporation counsel from 1888 to 1890, and was chairman of the Democratic Town Committee for many years. He served as secretary of the Greenville School Board for eight years, and was on the School Board of the Central District for several years. This was before the consolidation of the schools now in force. In 1918, Mr. Desmond was elected mayor of the city of Norwich, and served in that capacity for two years. He is a member of the Catholic Benevolent Legion; of the Foresters of America; and of White Cross Council, No. 13, Knights of Columbus. Mr, Desmond is now county coroner of New London county.

Mr. Desmond married (first), in June, 1896, Marguerite A. Cunningham, of Norwich. Two children were born of this union: Thomas G., v/ho was graduated from the Catholic University of America, at Washington, D. C, in June, 1920; and Catherine G.. now a student at New Rochelle College, New Rochelle, New York. Marguerite A. (Cunningham) Desmond died on June 16, 1906. Mr. Desmond married (second), in 1911, Catherine C. Somers, of Norwich. The family have always been devout members of the Roman Catholic church.

JOHN DESMOND OF ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

John Desmond, practicing at the bar of Rochester, his prominence indicated by the fact that he is vice president of the New York State Bar Association, was born in the town of Parma, this state, April 15, 1854, his parents being Bartholomew and Nancy (Foley) Desmond, both of whom were natives of Ireland. The father settled in Monroe county, New York, in 1849. He was a farmer by occupation and for many years carried on that pursuit, his death occurring in 1892. His wife survived him for about ten years, passing away in 1902. They had a family of eight children, five of whom are living.

John Desmond was reared upon the old homestead place and attended the country schools, wherein he mastered the elementary branches of English learning. He afterward entered the Brockport Academy and taught for several years in the country and village schools, but he regarded this merely as an initial step to other professional labor and in 1876, at the age of twenty-two years, he took up the study of law, being admitted to the bar on the 4th of April, 1879. He immediately began practice in the city of Rochester, where he has built up a large clientele. As the years have passed he has been associated with several partners, but is now alone. The zeal with which he has devoted his energies to his profession, the careful regard evinced for the interests of his clients and an assiduous and unrelaxing attention to all the details of his cases have brought him a large business and made him very successful in its conduct. His arguments have elicited warm commendation, not only from his associates at the bar, but also from the bench. He is a very able writer; his briefs always show wide research, careful thought and the best and strongest reasons which can be urged for his contention, presented in cogent and logical form and illustrated by a style unusually lucid and clear. His standing among his professional brethren is indicated by the fact that they have honored him with election to the office of president of the Rochester Bar Association, in which position he served from December, 1904, until December, 1905, while at the present writing he is vice president of the New York State Bar Association. He was one of the committee and also a member of the subcommittee of the state bar association that investigated the charges made against Judge Warren B. Hooker, one of the most famous investigations that has occurred here for many years.

On the 18th of August, 1880, Mr. Desmond was married to Miss Flora Butts, of Greece, Monroe county, and they have one daughter, Laura M. Desmond. The family are [sic] connected with the Unitarian church and Mr. Desmond is a gentleman of broad humanitarian principles as is proven by his active co-operation in many movements to alleviate or ameliorate the hard conditions of life for others. He was manager of the State Industrial School for five years, from 1891 until 1896, and is a member of the Genesee Valley Club. In citizenship he is public-spirited and while holding high ideals he has always recognized the practical utility of the opportunities at hand. His time and energies have naturally been given most largely to his profession and he has met with splendid success therein. Well versed in the learning of his profession and with a deep knowledge of human conduct, with great sagacity and marked tact, he stands as a peer of many of the ablest members of the New York bar and is an honor to the profession which has honored him.

THE THOMAS DESMOND FAMILY OF MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

The residence of the Desmond family in Milwaukee covers a period of seventy years, beginning during the territorial era of the state. The first generation was characterized by the labors and accomplishments of a pioneer settler. The head of the next generation, the late Thomas Desmond, was for nearly half a century well known in business and educational circles in Milwaukee, while the sons of Thomas Desmond have, as worthy representatives of an honored father and grandfather, borne distinctive parts in life in the law, education, in authorship, in various lines of business enterprise, and in civic and social work. The Desmond family is of Norman-Irish ancestry. A large province in southern Ireland was once known as "Desmond," and the "Earls of Desmond" played an important part in Anglo-Irish history.

The late Thomas Desmond was born in 1833 near Little Falls, New York, where his father had settled about one hundred years ago. In August, 1842, when the history of Wisconsin as a territory had yet six years to run, Humphrey Desmond, father of Thomas Desmond, came west and settled upon several hundred acres of land about twenty miles north of Milwaukee near the present city of Cedarburg. With him were three sons and three daughters.

Thomas Desmond, the youngest son, was then nine years old. He attended district schools, and at the age of seventeen began to vary the duties of farm life by teaching during the winter in near-by schools. Years of self-education and a natural leaning towards educational work led later to his identification with the Milwaukee public schools in administrative capacities. From 1866 to 1880 he was secretary of the school board. All his nine children completed high school courses in Milwaukee, finishing in normal schools or the State University. During the last twenty years of his life Mr. Desmond was state manager for one of the large eastern life insurance companies. At the time of his death in May, 1901, many tributes to his life and character were paid by prominent men of the city and state. This passage from a letter published in one of the Milwaukee dailies fairly summarizes the esteem in which he was held: "I have known Thomas Desmond since my boyhood, and a more consistent, conscientious, honorable man I have yet to meet. He was courteous, kind and affable. The dominant trait in his character was justice."

Thomas Desmond was survived by his widow, whose maiden name was Bowe, and who had been a resident of Milwaukee since 1854, and was in all respects the ideal of a true wife and helpmate. Their oldest daughter, Dora A. Desmond, who was for many years identified with educational and charitable work in Milwaukee died in 1909. Mary Desmond, the second daughter, was also a teacher in the Milwaukee schools for a number of years, but is now engaged in literary work and is active in several women's organizations of the city. She with her sisters Julia and Theresa Desmond, reside with their mother at the family home, 810 Van Buren Street, Milwaukee.

Humphrey J. Desmond, the oldest son of Thomas Desmond and who is regarded by his associates as possessing one of the finest minds in the Wisconsin bar, entered the legal profession after his graduation from the University of Wisconsin. He was a member of the Milwaukee school board from 1883 to 1890, and of the Wisconsin legislature during 1891-92. As a member of the school board he is credited with initiating the industrial training movement in the schools of Milwaukee, and of the Charter Convention of Milwaukee, and an incorporator of the City Club. He was especially identified with the inception and promotion of the Non-Partisan and the Home Rule laws for cities, in which movement Milwaukee has led the way.

Frank B. Desmond, the third son, is officially connected with the First National Bank of Milwaukee. He is widely known in business circles, and is a director in several corporations. Thomas A. Desmond, fourth among the sons, has built up a very substantial educational publishing business of national scope. He is also vice president of the Citizen Company, which publishes a number of newspapers in various parts of the United States.

Joseph G. Desmond, the youngest of the sons of the late Thomas Desmond, has specialized in advertising, and has charge of the advertising department of the several publications controlled by the Citizen Company. He is also secretary of the latter corporation.

THOMAS DESMOND, IRISH PATRIOT AND SHERIFF OF SAN FRANCISCO

Thomas Desmond was born in Cobh, County Cork, Ireland, in 1838, and immigrated to the United States in 1854. He was a member of the famous Irish Nationalist Expedition that liberated six Irish Republican prisoners from Freemantle Prison in Australia in 1875. As a member of the Fenian Brotherhood, he felt the injustice of the six remaining prisoners held by the British for participating in the Fenian Uprisings of the 1860s. With a group known as the Clan na Gael, they raised funds to charter an American flag vessel known as the Catalpa, which was sailed to Australia to free the Irish prisoners.

Prior to running for the office of Sheriff, he worked as a wheelwright and carriage maker. He was elected on the Workingman's Ticket in 1880. He died in 1910 and is buried in Holy Cross Cemetery. Source: Sheriffs of San Francisco, California at http://www.sfgov.org/site/sheriff index

He then assisted in organizing the Newburgh Shipyards, Inc., which built a shipyard on the Hudson river near Newburgh, N.Y., and of which he was president and chief engineer until 1920. The company constructed twelve 9,000 ton steel merchant ships for the U.S. Shipping Board, and five large ships for private account, 3,500 men being employed in the work.

Since 1914 Mr. Desmond's company has obtained contracts for more than forty-five million dollars' worth of engineering construction work, consisting chiefly of building large factories, apartment houses, group housing developments and ocean-going ships. In 1923 the twenty-story Park Lexington office building, covering an entire block on Park Avenue between 46th and 47th streets in New York was erected by Mr. Desmond. Its construction presented the most difficult engineering problems as it was built over two levels, express and suburban, of the New York Central railroad tracks.

A Republican in politics, he was a member of the Republican county committee of New York during 1915-1927. ## TIMOTHY JOSEPH DESMOND OF CHAUTAUQUA COUNTY, NEW YORK

Timothy Joseph Desmond—As one of the heads of the widely known Desmond Coal Company and Desmond Fisheries the man whose name we have just written stands forth so prominently, not only among his neighbors of Dunkirk, but also among his fellow-citizens of Chautauqua county, as to render any words of introduction not only unnecessary but wholly superfluous. To say that Mr. Desmond is known in his town and county is distinctly an understatement, inasmuch as his name, from its connection with a great fisheries concern, is familiar in many states of the American Union.

Timothy Joseph Desmond was born in Buffalo, and is a son of Timothy and Ellen (Harrigan) Desmond, both natives of Ireland, but married in the United States. The educational facilities of Timothy Joseph Desmond were limited, and he was early obliged to become a wage earner. His business ability being above the average, and his industry and energy equal to it, he found himself, when in the prime of life, one of the proprietors of two great concerns, the Desmond Coal Company and the Desmond Fisheries. The founding and maintenance of either of these enterprises would have been sufficient to place Mr. Desmond among the foremost business men of Western New York. The Desmond Coal Company handles all kinds of coal and gives employment to ten men. It owns its trucks and carries on a very extensive business. The Desmond Fisheries own five steam tugs and miles of nets, employing twentyeight men on their own boats. It works by contract twelve other steam tugs and gasoline motor boats on which they employ eighty-four hands. They own their cold storage, packing and fish houses, employing in these forty hands. Their catch averages 1,200 tons annually and is shipped into the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, New Jersey, West Virginia and Maryland. During the busy season they employ 162 men and their pay-roll exceeds $107,000 annually. Politically Mr. Desmond is a Democrat. He is a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and his fraternal affiliations are with the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, the Knights of Columbus, Dunkirk Club, C. and B. A. He is a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Mr. Desmond married in Buffalo, N. Y., Mary, daughter of Cornelius and Margaret (Darcy) Corcoran, and they became the parents of three children: Margaret, at home; John, married Lucile Frey, and they have two children, William and Lamar; Timothy Joseph, Jr., married Irene Findley. All these children were educated in Dunkirk. Mrs. Desmond, who was a devoted wife and mother, passed away April 15, 1919.

Cornelius William Desmond, son of Timothy and Ellen (Harrigan) Desmond, and brother of Timothy Joseph Desmond, was born in Buffalo, and is the partner of his brother in the Desmond Coal Company and the Desmond Fisheries. The political principles of Mr. Desmond are those supported by the Democratic party. He occupies a seat in the Chamber of Commerce, and affiliates with the Catholic Benevolent Legion. He is a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

Mr. Desmond married Agnes, daughter of Thomas and Mary Cleary, and they have five children living, all of whom were educated in Dunkirk with the exception of the two eldest who received their educations in Buffalo: Thomas, Elinor, Agnes, Elizabeth, and Margaret. One child. Mary, is deceased.

The great business which these two brothers now successfully conduct had a small beginning, but has been gradually built up by their combined talent and aggressiveness to its present large proportions. Their record is of value to their descendants and this, together with the fact that it contains a salutary lesson for young men starting in life, should insure its careful preservation.

REVEREND WILLIAM PATRICK DESMOND OF CHEROKEE COUNTY, IOWA

Probably no man has done more to promote the spread of the Catholic religion in Cherokee county or to advance the cause of Christianity in this part of Iowa than Rev. William Patrick Desmond, who since 1908 has been pastor of the Immaculate Conception church in Cherokee. He was born in County Cork, Ireland, April 3, 1865, and is a son of Patrick and Mary (Barry) Desmond, also natives of County Cork, where the father engaged in farming.

Rev. William Patrick Desmond began his education in the national school at Neucestown, Ireland, and afterward attended St. Finbar's Seminary at Bandon. He was ordained to the Catholic priesthood on the eve of All Hallows in Dublin in 1892 and shortly afterward came to America, where he was appointed assistant at St. Coulumbkill's church, West Hill, Dubuque. He was afterward sent to Bryant, Clinton county, Iowa, as the first pastor of St. Mary's church and was transferred from there to the Sacred Heart church in Alvord, Lyon county, this state. He was later pastor of St. Mary's church at Doon until December 1, 1905, when he came to Cherokee as pastor of the Immaculate Conception Congregation. He has since held this position and has accomplished a great deal of earnest and consecrated work among his people. In 1907 the magnificent new church was erected and in 1908 the convent was built, the work being initiated and carried forward to successful completion by Father Desmond.

Father Desmond is a member of the Knights of Columbus and gives his political allegiance to the democratic party. He is widely and favorably known in Cherokee, holding the respect and confidence of people of all denominations. His warmest friends are the members of other churches, who appreciate the great effort he has put forth in a worthy cause and speak of his accomplishments in terms of the highest praise.
