

THE DESCENDANTS OF TIMOTHY DESMOND AND ELLEN MCCARTHY
 COUNTY CORK, IRELAND TO BROOKLYN, KINGS COUNTY, NEW YORK
 Compiled by William Desmond
 Copyright 2017

Some say that Timothy Desmond (1.001) was born in Clonakilty, County Cork, Ireland in about 1838 and was the son of Daniel Desmond and Ellen Sullivan. Others say that his mother was Catherine Mahony, and when she died, his father married Ellen Sullivan, who raised Timothy and his siblings. There are several problems these two scenarios. First, there is no evidence that links the Timothy Desmond who died in Brooklyn, New York on 10 Jan 1910 with the Timothy who was born in Clonakilty--there are no known documents that give Clonakilty as his birthplace. Second, the parish registers that exist do not contain any record of a marriage between Daniel Desmond and Ellen Sullivan, nor any record of the baptism of any children named Desmond whose parents bore those two names. The name of Timothy's godmother on his baptismal record is Ellen Breal--not Ellen Sullivan, as claimed by some. There is a marriage record for Daniel Desmond and Catherine Mahoney on 11 Feb 1834 in Clonakilty and baptismal records for the following children that list them as parents: (1) Daniel Desmond, bap. 6 Mar 1835; (2) Mary Desmond, bap. 22 Nov 1836; (3) Timothy Desmond, bap. 14 Jan 1838; (4) Catherine Desmond, bap. 16 Mar 1840; (5) Mary Desmond, bap. 17 May 1842, (6) Catherine Desmond, bap. 27 Apr 1846; and (7) Bridget Desmond, bap. 7 Jan 1852. None of the siblings of the Timothy Desmond who was born in Clonakilty has been located in the U.S.

This descendancy would not have been compiled were it not for the research of two of Timothy Desmond's great-grandsons: Raymond Maiara (<http://web.archive.org/web/20050204042556/http://auroraforge.com/genealogy/desmond/desmond.htm>) and Tim Desmond (<http://www.desmondcorp.com/genealogy/desmond.htm>). Their personal knowledge of many of the members of this family has been a great aid and inspiration. For additional information, visit their websites.
